

MARCH 8, 2017

STUDENT RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES AND FELLOWSHIPS

Congressional Hispanic Caucus Institute (CHCI)-United Health Foundation Scholar Intern Program -

This program helps students pursuing health-related careers receive scholarship funds as well as hands-on experience through a paid internship at a community-based health organization. The program creates a unique opportunity for financially needy students to take on what would otherwise be an unpaid internship and exposes them to the health care needs of underserved communities, all while receiving financial support for their education. CHCI-UHF Scholar-Interns are part of the United Health Foundation's Diverse Scholars Initiative, which seeks to improve the health care system by increasing the number of professionals from multicultural backgrounds. Application Due Date: March 31, 2017. http://chci.org/programs/scholar\_intern/chci-united\_health\_foundation\_scholar\_intern\_program/

Central Scholarship Bureau Scholarships for Degree-Seeking Students - Central Scholarship has been helping students pursue higher education since 1924. This program offers scholarships for undergraduate students at every level, from a first-time freshman to a student returning to school to finish up those last few credits; this program is also for graduate and professional students interested in obtaining advanced degrees. The applicant needs to be a student from Maryland with a GPA above 2.0. The applicant must be planning to attend an accredited United States college, university, community college or career school in the upcoming academic year. And must be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident. Application Due Date: April 3, 2017. <http://www.central-scholarship.org/how-to-apply/application-eligibility-instructions/>

American College of Epidemiology (ACE) Student Prize - Individuals are invited to submit samples of their unpublished, original research, completed during graduate epidemiology training, for consideration for the Student Paper prize. The Student Prize consists of: 1. Financial assistance to attend the Annual Meeting of the American College of Epidemiology. 2. Presentation of the paper at the annual meeting. 3. Expedient review of the paper for publication in the Annals of Epidemiology. Eligibility is as Follows: The first author of the submitted paper must be eligible for ACE Associate Member status and enrolled in a master's or doctoral epidemiology training program, or have completed training no later than January of the calendar year of the annual meeting. Work must have been completed during the student's training program, contain original research, and be suitable for publication. Application Due Date: May 1, 2017. http://www.acepidemiology.org/ACE/Content/Student\_Prize\_Call\_for\_Papers.aspx