STUDENT RESEARCH OPPORTUNITIES AND FELLOWSHIPS

American Pain Society Future Leaders in Pain Research Grants Program - This grant program has been established to fund pain research projects of doctoral-prepared investigators who have not yet attained NIH RO1-level funding. The purpose of this grant program is to encourage research in pain that will add to the existing body of knowledge, and to allow investigators to develop pilot data that will aid them in securing additional major grant funding. Proposed research projects should be in one of the following five areas of inquiry: Use of analgesic medications, Unwanted effects of pain treatment related to analgesic therapy, Neuropathic pain, Mechanisms of pain, or Education and non-pharmacologic interventions or approaches to improve pain management. <http://americanpainsociety.org/funding-opportunities/grants/future-leaders-program> Application Due Date: July 10, 2017.

Administrative Supplements for Summer Research Experiences for Students and Science Teachers - The National Institutes of Environmental Health Sciences hereby notify Program Director(s)/Principal Investigator(s) (PD(s)/PI(s)) with R01, R21, R15, R35, R37, or P01 awards that funds are available for administrative supplements to support summer research experiences in environmental health science for high school students, college undergraduates, master's degree candidates, medical students, secondary school science teachers, and science professors from R15/AREA grant eligible institutions. Administrative supplements must support work within the scope of the original project. Application Due Date(s): January 31, 2018 and January 31, 2019. <https://grants.nih.gov/grants/guide/pa-files/PA-17-055.html>
